POLICE PRECEPT 2026/27

A MESSAGE FROM YOUR POLICE AND CRIME COMMISSIONER JONATHAN EVISON

As your Police and Crime Commissioner, my priority is to ensure you have an effective police force that prevents and tackles crime and anti social behaviour. I am responsible for giving the Chief Constable a realistic budget to do this.

Since being elected in 2021, I have aimed to maintain sufficient funding to invest in police officer numbers and support proactive, visible policing. My Police and Crime Plan has driven fair policing across rural, urban, and coastal areas. Officer numbers are higher than before my term began, and many crime categories and levels of anti social behaviour have improved.

However, financial pressures, including pay awards, inflation, and other national decisions, create uncertainty. Despite lobbying, these factors affect all forces and require careful planning to avoid risks to local policing.

I have therefore made the difficult decision to increase the police precept to sustain officer numbers, support the frontline, and maintain recent progress. Over half of respondents to my survey supported paying £14.99 or more to protect staffing, though further efficiency savings will still be needed.

I wish this increase of £18.49 on a Band D property wasn't necessary, especially during challenging economic times, but current government funding leaves little choice. When you call 999, I want confidence that help will be available, investigations thorough, and victims supported. Without improved central funding, the burden continues to fall on local taxpayers.

YOUR COUNCIL TAX

Your overall Council Tax bill helps to fund your local Council, the Police and the Fire Authority. The Council Tax discussed in this leaflet is the portion known as the Police Precept, which is set by the Police and Crime Commissioner and goes towards funding Humberside Police and the other services described on the previous page.

The Police and Crime Commissioner set the precept for 2026/27 at the levels shown in the table below, an increase of £18.49 on a Band D property. How much you pay depends on the Council Tax band related to your property.

Property Band	2025/26	2026/27
